New York Herald Bureau. | Washington, D. C., Nev. 10.

The world mourned to-day at tha eier of America's Unknown Soldier. Upward of 75,000 men, women and hildren of all nationalities visited the coffin of the war here as it lay in state in the rotunda of the United States Capitol. They represented all walks of life.

Rulers of nations paid formal irttute with flowers, while gray haired war mothers, with gold stars on their coats, poured out their sorrow In ears. The war heroes of many lands came and went away with limping American veterans, who thought perhaps it was a "pal" who is to be laid to rest in Arlington National Cemetery to-morrow with all possible military honors.
